Opinion Regarding the Alton Deal Submitted to Illinois Governor.

HARRIMAN MADE MILLIONS

ROADS LEFT IN HOPELESS

General Stead, in an opinion submitof the Chicago & Alton railroad propney general concludes, therefore, that the best plan would be for the company itself to seek a remedy for the situation, or even for one or more stockholders to act. At the same time Mr. Stend assures the governor that should be become convinced on further investigation that the state can elieve the road's condition he will make the necessary moves at once.

Remedy at Law Exists.

Notwithstanding his convictions as to he wisdom of immediate action, Mr. Stead insists there is not the least doubt but that a civil remedy exists the "financiers who wrecked this prosperous railroad com-pany, and, at the expense of innocent tockholders and bondholders, have gathered to themselves a harvest of millions of dollars."

Attorney General Stead reviews the stimony given by Harriman recently efore the interstate commerce comnission and from the records of the Illinois railroad and warehouse comalssion, and the various resolutions, certificates and documents pertaining the Chicago & Alton Railroad company, the Chicago & Alton Railway company, and the consolidated company, all of which figure in the manip-

Before Harriman Took Hold.

Mr. Stead takes up the Alton deal in reat detail, bringing out the fact that in 1898 the company paid all its operating expenses, and a 7 per cent dividend on common and preferred stock and had $300,000 left. The company's credit was good and then the syndicate took hold. urchasing 34,722 shares of preferred and 3.24 of common stock, distributed as fol-
